Cases coming for resolution after this date would have to pay 30% of penalty and interest, the Bill provisions said.

However, certain cases including tax arrears relating to undisclosed foreign income/asset, assessment or reassessment made on the basis of information received under DTAAare out of the ambit of the scheme. Further, cases where prosecution for any offence under the Indian Penal Code/Prevention of Money Laundering Act/Prohibition of Benami Property Transactions Act has been instituted or a person who has been convicted under the Acts can't avail the scheme.

The scheme is modelled on a similar scheme for settling indirect tax disputes, the window for which closed on January 15. The government has said that nearly 95% of 1.9 lakh outstanding cases were resolved under that scheme resulting in over Rs 35,000 crore of revenue for the government. The total revenue stuckin such cases was, however, estimated to be Rs 3.6 lakh crore.

Explaining the purpose of the Direct Tax Vivad se Vishwas scheme, the government has said that amounts locked in direct tax disputes are nearly equal to the total direct tax collections for a year. Further, it added that tax disputes consume copious amounts of time, energy and resources both on the part of the government as well as taxpayers.

"Moreover, they also deprive the government of the timely collection of revenue. Therefore, there is an urgent need to provide for resolution of pending tax disputes. This will not only benefit the government by generating timely revenue but also the taxpayers who will be able to deploy the time, energy and resources saved by opting for such dispute resolution towards their business activities," it said.

Coronavirus: Growing toll on China's health workers

"The duties of medical workers at the front are indeed extremely heavy; their working and resting circumstances are limited, the psychological pressures are great, and the risk of infection is high," Zeng told a news conference.

Chinese officials and hospitals have repeatedly spoken of a shortage of protective equipment, including face masks.

The new figures for total infections gave no sign the outbreak was nearing a peak, said Adam Kamradt-Scott, an infectious diseases expert at the Centre for International Security Studies at the University of Syd-REUTERS

Trump visit: India to offer US partial dairy, poultry market

access

India has also offered to cut tariffs on chicken legs from 100% to 25%. US negotiators want that tariff cut to 10%.

The Modi government is also offering to allow some access to India's dairy market, but with a 5% tariff and quotas, the sources said. But dairy imports would need a certificate they are not derived from animals that have consumed feeds that include internal organs, blood meal or tissues of ruminants.

New Delhi has also offered to lower its 50% tariffs on very large motorcycles made by Harley-Davidson, a tax that was a particular irritant for Trump, who has labeled India the "tariff king". The change would be largely symbolic because few such motorcycles are sold in Trump will be feted in Modi's home state Gujarat, then hold talks in New Delhi and attend a reception that the hosts have promised will be bigger than the one organised for former president Barack Obama in 2015.

But it is far from clear whether India's offers will be enough to satisfy US trade representative Robert Lighthizer, who cancelled plans for a trip to India this week. Instead, he has held telephone talks with commerce minister Piyush Goyal.

The US dairy industry remained skeptical on Thursday that a viable deal is at hand.

"We're always looking for market access, but in terms of India, as of today I'm not aware of any real progress going on," said Michael Dykes, president of
